Dear sir/madam

Glasgow Community Budgeting
Newlands & Auldburn Area Partnership Invites You To Send Us Your Project Idea

Glasgow City Council is committed to the promotion of Community Budgeting. This is a process by which the public are encouraged to participate in decision making. Details on this are provided at the end of this letter.

I am writing to you to invite you to consider sending us a project proposal which would be of benefit to the local communities in the Newlands & Auldburn area. The Newlands & Auldburn Area Partnership has allocated £17,993 from its Area Budget to run a community budgeting process from November 2016-January 2017.

The Area Partnership is now inviting bids from community and voluntary organisations which:

- operate and provide services within its boundary area i.e. within Newlands & Auldburn Ward 02;
- agree to participate in a Community Budgeting Event by submitting their Funding Proposal and presenting (in any way they choose) their proposal for a share of this £17,993;
- Meet the basic criteria for an Area Grant and
- Can be delivered by end March 2017

I hope that you will consider this opportunity. If you feel that you can do this, please complete and return the attached Newlands & Auldburn Community Budgeting Funding Proposal form to patricia.mcmahon2@glasgow.gov.uk, no later than 10th January 2017, please note that no applications received after this date will be considered.

Your Community Budgeting Event will be held on Saturday 28th January 2017 from 9:30-11:30am in Pollokshaws Burgh Hall, 2025 Pollokshaws Road, Glasgow, G43 1NE.

Guidance on completion of the form is attached but if you have any queries or require any further support please contact Patricia Boyce on 0141 276 9884.

Community and voluntary organisations whose proposals meet the eligibility criteria will be notified and invited to present their proposal at the Community Budgeting Event, and the decision on which community and voluntary organisations are awarded funding will be made by the local community attending the event above.

I provide some background below on community budgeting for your information. Meanwhile, I hope you will participate in the allocation of this £17,993 in the Newlands & Auldburn Ward.

Yours sincerely

Councillor Emma Gillan
Chair of the Newlands & Auldburn Area Partnership

Background to Community Budgeting

Glasgow City Council's Strategic Plan for 2012 -2017 states that "part of our approach to community planning and devolving responsibility for how services are developed locally, we will roll out community budgeting to local areas so local people have greater influence over, and input into, how services are developed and delivered."

Community Budgeting (CB) is a generic term which covers a range of initiatives and approaches, and one of the most common approaches to CB is known as 'Participatory Budgeting'. Participatory budgeting is a democratic process in which community members decide how to spend part of a public budget and is described in the following terms:

"Participatory budgeting directly involves local people in making decisions on the spending priorities for a defined public budget. This means engaging residents and community groups representative of all parts of the community to discuss spending priorities, making specific proposals and voting on them, as well as giving local people a role in the scrutiny and monitoring process."
