

Springboig/Barlanark Thriving Places Steering Group

Note of meeting held on 21 March 2019 in Barlanark Community Centre

Present: Bailie Annette Christie (Chair), Glasgow City Council; Jane Horne and Craig Green, Glasgow Kelvin College; Joyce Lau, and Kirsteen Shearlaw, GCC, Community Empowerment Services; Alan Mackin and Nicola Byfield, Glasgow Life; Ruth Donnelly, Glasgow City Health and Social Care Partnership; Eddie Andrews, Connect Community Trust/Wellhouse and Queenslie Community Council; and Debbie McGowan, Voluntary Sector North East Glasgow.

Apologies: Bailie Elaine Ballantyne, Councillor James Coleman, Councillor Philip Charles and Bailie Marie Garrity, Glasgow City Council, Derek Speirs, GCC Community Empowerment Services; Fiona McLeish, Glasgow Life; Cathy Noble, Jobs and Business Glasgow; Martin Lundie, GCC Neighbourhoods and Sustainability; Tony Shepherd, Scottish Fire and Rescue; and Tony Teasdale, Shettleston Housing Association.

1. Minutes of previous meeting

The minutes of the previous meeting on 17 January 2019 were agreed as an accurate record.

2. Thriving Places Action Plan

The action plan that was previously distributed was discussed and updates provided in relation to

- The action plan required to be reviewed with local people and published by September 2019. The Community Connector would lead on this with support from the Engagement Sub-group and partners
- The CSG survey had not been undertaken yet. CSG were now part of the Council's Neighbourhoods and Sustainability. Martin Lundie was unable to attend the meeting today and had requested that the survey be discussed at the next meeting to allow Steering Group members to consider the evaluation of the survey process undertaken in Easterhouse.
- The results of the Calvay Social Survey had not been shared yet with the Steering Group. Kirsteen agreed to contact Yvonne to see if the results could be shared
- Kirsteen would update the asset map on Pathfinder

3. Community Engagement Sub Group

A report was circulated providing feedback on the community conversation held on Tesco on 5 March 2019. The report also summarised the results of all the conversations held at Winterfest, Budhill Gala Day, Barlanark Community Centre Open Day and the Calvay Community Breakfast and suggested actions against some issues which could be addressed quickly and 2 priority themes for the Steering Group to address. After discussion, it was agreed that this report would be considered in more detail at the next meeting once the Community Connector was in post as it develops the plan quite significantly. It was noted that none of the results related to the Wellhouse area and it was suggested that this area be a priority for the Community Connector when she commences to ensure that the Plan was covering all neighbourhoods within the Thriving Place. Eddie advised that there was a lot of activity in Wellhouse that could positively enhance the Plan. The document would also be used as part of the induction process for the Community Connector.

The programme of activity for the Barlanark Community Centre was tabled which would be incorporated into the asset map and forwarded to the local resident who had requested it.

Discussion followed on communication and it was suggested that a local newsletter could promote local services and advise local people what was going on. Craig advised that the asset map would also include a directory of around 40 services which would be available online as well as hard copies that can be circulated. A community noticeboard was also suggested as well as using ice creams vans to publicise activity.

Bailie Christie advised that the Council had agreed to fund an artist in residence in each ward in the city to work with local communities on different levels. As the Thriving Place was located across 2 wards, there was the opportunity to link with 2 artists. They would be based initially in a Glasgow Life venue. The Community Connector would be linked in to the artists and it was noted that Barlanark Community Centre was a good venue if performances were part of the programme. Craig also advised that the college was supporting arts students and Forum Theatre was a good way to engage with local people. Debbie agreed to tweet information on the artists in residence programme to raise awareness within the Thriving Place area.

4. Glasgow Life Family Learning Officer Overview

No one was present to provide this overview.

5. Thriving Places Anchor Organisation Update

Craig advised that the Community Connector would start on 8 April 2019. Arrangements had been made to establish an email address for her and meetings were being set up with key partners.

Craig confirmed that the Community Connectors workplan will be managed by the college and he would report on the workplan to the Steering Group as appropriate.

6. 2018/19 Development Budget

A paper was circulated detailing the current position in relation to the 2018/19 development/seed funding budget. To date £4,058.15 had been committed leaving a balance of £1,191.85.

Following discussion, it was noted that any underspend, including salary costs, would be carried forward to next financial year for inclusion in the Citywide pot to meet the shortfall in the overall budget.

Craig confirmed the funding split for next financial year:

- Salary and employer costs (NI, pension etc) £38,365
- Development budget £3,635

Funding from the development budget will require prior approval before any activity/purchase takes place.

Discussion took place on the level of development budget available and it was noted that other funding can be sought for particular pieces of work. This would be the responsibility of all partners, not just the college as anchor organisation.

7. Digital Glasgow Strategy and Glasgow Community Learning Plan

Links to both papers had been included on the agenda. Craig tabled a draft report highlighting the links between Thriving Places and the CLD Plan and outlining the digital inclusion and participation, and community engagement and empowerment developments planned as part of the Digital Glasgow Strategy. Once the paper is finalised, Craig will circulate.

It was noted that Glasgow was one of 4 cities using the Consul platform to develop community participatory budgeting and other forms of consultation. Pathfinder was also being redesigned and there were opportunities to link with the Council's GIS system. Barriers to participation need to be addressed and it was suggested that using library cards as a means of identity could address some of these barriers.

8. Partner updates

Eddie updated on activity within the Wellhouse areas as follows:

- The community was trying to get a pharmacy for the area
- A community asset transfer had been submitted
- Members of the community are undertaking community litter picks

These are all being developed by the Community Council and the Community Development Trust.

It was noted that Wellhouse was the only neighbourhood that had a community council and it was agreed that contact would be made with Lawrence O'Neill (City Council officer supporting Community Councils) for information, the proposal being that during conversations with local people, the idea of promoting the benefits of community council could be included and encourage local people to get one established for the other areas within the Thriving Place.

9. Date of next meetings

The next meetings would take place on Tuesday, 14 May 2019 at 2pm in Barlanark Community Centre and Tuesday, 25 June 2019 at 2pm in Barlanark Community Centre.

The Engagement Sub-group would meet again on Wednesday, 24 April 2019 at 2pm in Barlanark Community Centre.

Introduction

1. The Community Empowerment (Scotland) Act 2015 requires Community Planning Partnerships to produce Locality Plans for areas that experience significantly poorer outcomes. In Glasgow, it was agreed to develop Locality Plans based on the Thriving Places in the City.
2. The Thriving Places/Locality Plan should take into account the needs and circumstances of residents and should be based on both statistical evidence and consultation with local people.
3. We are also required to publish annual progress reports on Thriving Places/Locality Plans, with the aim of identifying improvements in the local outcomes as well as reviewing and, if necessary, revising the plans on a periodic basis. Plans will evolve over time and should be regarded as living documents.
4. The Guidance on the Act provides more specific information on annual progress reports (emphasis added):

*CPPs have to let their communities know what progress they have made in improving the lives of local people. Reports about progress, whether good or bad, should be easily available to the local community, so that communities can see and understand what has changed because of community planning. Reports should explain what the priorities are and show how things have improved or worsened.

CPPs must report every year to their communities. The reporting year usually runs from 1 April to 31 March. CPPs must publish this report no more than 6 months after the end of the reporting year reports to communities must be made available by 30 September of the same year.

These reports should be laid out so that people can easily see how things that are important to communities are changing. CPPs should think about how their communities get to know this information. There are lots of ways to share information and CPPs should ask local communities what works best for them. This could include for example local face to face meetings, displays in local libraries or *shops, newsletters or paper reports. Information could be provided through PCs, laptops or smart phones.*¹

5. A practical consequence of this could be that a communication strategy is developed for Springboig & Barlanark. This should lay out how local communities will be informed of not just progress, but upcoming opportunities to participate. This should include detail on how and where physical outputs such as newsletters or reports will be disseminated locally and how social media will be utilised.
6. The 2015 Act also requires Locality Plans to be reviewed 'from time to time'. The guidance states that 'CPPs [...] keep the continued suitability of these plans under review'. The Springboig & Barlanark Plan was published on 1st October 2017. Partners recognised that the plan was prepared in a tight timescale and without an adequate level of community input and agreed to revise the plan. The absence of a Community Connector, amongst other things, has delayed the update of the plan.

Action Plan

7. At the last meeting of the Steering group in March 2019, a paper was issued providing a summary of all community engagement conversations taken place so far. A copy of this report is attached as Appendix 1. This paper suggested priorities for the Springboig & Barlanark Thriving Place along with some suggested actions to meet some of the issues highlighted by local residents.

Initial proposals

8. From the initial discussions the following themes were identified:
 - a. Environment
 - b. Road safety
 - c. Transport
9. However, we know from other evidence (eg. SIMD) that there are issues in Springboig & Barlanark not covered by these themes and we would also want to agree some more ambitious long term outcomes which go beyond the themes listed above. When considering this, It may also be worthwhile for the Steering Group to review the approaches taken in some other Thriving Places in the City, namely Ruchill/Possilpark, Govan and Priesthill/Househillwood. An Easterhouse Thriving Place action plan sub group took a similar approach and are proposing that having three broad priority themes of People, Place and the Economy would cover the themes highlighted in the above paragraph, provide a framework for a flexible and ambitious long term plan and also allow the process of implementing an action plan more manageable through a limited number of priorities.

10. Should Springboig & Barlanark Thriving Place wish to adopt a similar approach, lead agencies would need to be identified for each theme. GCC Neighbourhoods and Sustainability has offered to lead on a Place theme in Easterhouse and Glasgow Life has offered to lead on the People theme – both subject to discussion at the Easterhouse Steering Group.
11. Short, medium and long term outcomes as well as priority actions would need to be updated and the leads should look to bring together all relevant parties to start to draft the action plan. The Easterhouse sub group is proposing to use a similar SMART (Specific, Measurable, Achievable, Realistic, Timely) action plan to that used in Govan and Priesthill/Househillwood which is not too dissimilar to the current Springboig & Barlanark format. The priorities identified at paragraph 8 above could easily fit under these new proposed themes.

Next Steps

12. If the Springboig & Barlanark Steering Group agrees to the approach detailed above, by selecting the same themes as Easterhouse or identifying other priorities, discussions will take place with potential leads with the hope that they will arrange to meet with partners to draft a set of actions based on statistical evidence and local views already expressed.
13. Each sub-group will be responsible for producing an action plan for their priority theme. These can be collated into one Plan by GCC's Community Empowerment Services.
14. Subject to the Steering Group's views, the Engagement sub group could be tasked with the development of a communications strategy to ensure the people of Springboig & Barlanark are aware of our plans and opportunities to get involved if they wish to do so.

Recommendations

15. The Steering Group is asked to:
 - Note the requirement for annual progress reports and review of Thriving Places/Locality Plans,
 - Consider the proposals and how the range of partners can support the production of a revised plan and communications strategy
 - Agree the next steps; and
 - Note that a draft plan and communication strategy will be produced to be presented to the Steering Group before 30th September 2019

1. Purpose of report

This paper provides feedback on the issues raised by local people who attended the community conversation in Tesco on 5 March 2019, together with a full summary of all issues raised at previous conversations. Steering Group members are requested to consider these and agree the key priorities/themes for the Thriving Place to tackle and also agree a course of action for some tasks which can be dealt with quickly.

There is also a requirement for the Locality Plan to be reviewed by local people by September 2019. Further information on this is included within the report.
